BLOWN INTO ATOMS

Nitroglycerin House Near San Francisco, Cal.

FOURTEEN PEOPLE WERE KILLED

Five Americans and Nine Chinese Were Blown Into Fragments and Their Remains Scattered Along the Road For a Mile—In All Ten Thousand Pounds of Explosives Went Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—A terrific report and concussion, which was distinctly felt all through the city and towns around the bay for a distance of 40 miles yesterday, was at first believed to have been caused by an earthquake, but proved to be an explosion in the nitroglycerin and mixing houses of the California powder works at Pinole, across the bay. The crew of the glycerine house, four in number, and the foreman of the mixing house, were all killed, as were nine Chinese working in the latter department.

The explosion occurred in the nitroglycerin house, and was probably caused by the Chinese dropping a can of the explosive. The cause can not be definitely ascertained, however, as all connected with the building are dead. There were 200 Chinese in that adjacent mixing room, and at the sound of the explosion all ran.

The force of the explosion was tremendous. Huge pieces of wood were thrown into the bay, a distance of half a mile, and nitroglycerin tanks were hurled a distance of 500 yards. Hands, legs and other parts of the mutilated remains of the dead were scattered along the road for a mile. The nitroglycerin house first went up, then the mixing storehouse and gun cotton in the premises followed.

The nitroglycerin house, of which not a vestige now remains, was a 3-story frame structure 1,200 by 50 feet. It contained 8,000 pounds of nitroglycerin and 2,000 pounds of hercules powder. A remarkable feature of the explosion is that although the storehouse containing 1,000 pounds of hercules powder is completely wrecked, its contents are intact. In all 10,000 pounds of explosives went up with a roar and a sheet of flames.

The fatalities are as follows:

Clarence Johnson, foreman glycerine house.

D. A. Doane, of Pinole.

M. Minahol, of Oakland.

C. Viegas, of Martinez.

W. D. Taylor, foreman of mixing house.

Nine Chinese.

EXPLOSION IN A COAL MINE.

Four Men Suffocated and a Number of Others Affected by the Smoke.

WHEELING, May 22.—At 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a Pole carelessly ignited a can of powder in mine No. 4 of the Monongah Coal and Coke company, and a terrible explosion followed.

The accident occurred in the main air course leading to mine No. 2, about 500 feet from the mouth of mine No. 4, and the smoke was thus driven through the different parts of the mine, suffocating four miners. Quite a number of others were seriously, but not fatally, affected by the smoke.

The names of the dead are:

C. L. Berthor, an old man who leaves a large family.

William Shaffer, aged 18.

Luke Verne.

Andre Dunlop.

The last two are foreigners.

The injured are: Harry Leaper, Frank Floyd, James Burcher, William Jones and Clarence Siveska.

All the dead and injured were taken out of the mine immediately after the accident. The injured will all recover, as they were only hurt by inhaling smoke. As soon as the powder smoke cleared away, it was found that no damage whatever had been done to the mine, so that work will not be interrupted.

There is no gas or fire damp whatever in these mines, which are regarded as the safest and best equipped in the country.

Seven Men Badly Burned.

HARTSHORNE, I. T., May 22.—A gas explosion occurred in Alderson coal mine yesterday, by which seven miners were burned, one seriously. A Pole miner accidentally caused the explosion.

SHOT AT EACH OTHER.

One of Them in a Dangerous Condition, but the Other Not Seriously Hurt.

VEEDERSBURG, Ind., May 22.—A shooting affray occurred at Hillsboro, a small town east of here, yesterday afternoon. Dr. W. R. Stout, a prominent physician, was accused of an intimacy with the wife of Charles Williams. Dr. Stout and Williams met yesterday. A word was passed by one of them, when both drew their guns and began shooting. Stout shot Williams in the neck, the ball cutting through the flesh, bare, missing the jugular vein.

Williams' revolver first missed fire, his second shot passed through Stout's left arm. Stout's second attempt missed fire, while Williams' third shot entered Stout's body about three inches below the right nipple and passed clear through his body. Then they beat each other with their revolvers until separated. They were so close during the firing that the powder burned their flesh. Williams is not seriously hurt, but Stout is in a dangerous condition.

Hamilton Gradually Sinking.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Miss Mary A. Dodge (Gail Hamilton) is still alive, but gradually sinking.

CONGRESSMAN COGSWELL DEAD.

His Long Suffering Ended at 1:35 This Morning.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Representative William Cogswell of Massachusetts died at 1:35 o'clock this morning at his apartments in this city. With him when the end came were Mrs. Cogswell, his wife, Dr. Cogswell, his son, and Miss Cogswell, his daughter. General Cogswell had been failing rapidly during the day, and as night came on it was apparent to his family that he had but short time to live. Much of the time his breath came only in gasps, though the end was calm and peaceful.

General Cogswell has been incapacitated for congressional work for about six months, and was not seen in his seat during the last session of the Fifty-third congress.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

MR. COGSWELL

William Cogswell was born in Bradford, Mass., Aug. 23, 1838. He was graduated from the Dane law school of Harvard in 1860. He entered the federal army in April, 1861, and served throughout the war. He was breveted brigadier general in 1864. After the war closed he resumed the practice of law at Salem, Mass., and was for five years mayor of that city. He served five terms in the Massachusetts house of representatives and one term in the state senate.

In 1886, he was chosen to represent the Essex (Mass.) district in the popular branch of congress and has served there continuously ever since, having been re-elected to the Fifty-fourth congress. He has served with distinction on the rivers and harbors and appropriations committees. He was one of the most popular members of the house.

In personal appearance he somewhat resembled President Cleveland, for whom he was often mistaken. His bold, sturdy, frankness and integrity commanded themselves to the house when he spoke and gave his utterances much weight. He was broad-minded and was particularly careful to avoid partisan debates touching the war.

READY FOR THE RUSH.

The Kickapoo Reservation Will Soon Be Invaded by the Settlers.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., May 22.—The Kickapoo country, which will be opened to white settlement tomorrow noon, is full of soakers and more are going in every day. These men are very bold in their declarations and there can be no doubt that the most shameless acts of sojournerism will be practiced on all sides.

The news of the president's proclamation has not penetrated much beyond the towns lining the railroads. In the inland towns and on farms are many people who have been waiting for years for the opening of the Kickapoo lands, and these will hardly receive the news in time to get ready and get to the country by Thursday.

The people of Chandler and Teeumseh, who several times during the past two months were fooled by couriers riding into the town with the announcement that the Kickapoo country was open to settlement, and who rushed pell-mell into the reservation and staked off claims, have discovered that under a strict construction of the sooner act of 1889 every man who went on these false alarms is a soaker, and barred from taking land.

They have found that an organization of the old Kickapoo soakers who have been camped on the line for years have all their names, the date of the runs and the location of the claim, each one staked to be used in proving them soakers, and the false alarms were a little scheme of the old timers to shut off much competition in the real opening.

There is much bad feeling over the matter and there may be trouble between the two factions. As yet, however, nothing real has happened to mar the universal feeling of happiness that prevails along the border lines of the new Eldorado, and great expectations are harbored by many of the old timers who know the lay of the land perfectly, each of which has long ago picked out some particularly fine claim that he hopes to secure.

Ex-Consul Waller's Case.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A Washington dispatch to a local paper says: The French government, acceding to the demand of the United States, has transferred the case of ex-Consul John L. Waller to ordinary civil jurisdiction. This action apparently nullifies the sentence of 20 years' confinement imposed on Waller by the French military court in Madagascar, and indicates either his trial by the civil judiciary or his ultimate release from prison.

LONDON, May 22.—According to advice received here from the Island of Madagascar fever is ravaging the French troops composing the expeditionary force operating against the Hovas.

AMALGAMATED MEET

An Important Gathering Being Held in Cleveland.

THE IRON AND STEEL WORKERS.

The Twelfth Annual Convention Well Attended and Some Radical Changes Are Expected to Be Made in the Wage Scale. The Opening Program Slightly Changed. Only Routine Work Accomplished.

CLEVELAND, May 22.—The twelfth annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of America was called to order in Memorial hall by President Garland yesterday, with about 100 delegates present. A large number of delegates had not arrived when the meeting came to order, but it was probable that at least 250 will be in attendance by tomorrow.

According to the program prepared the morning session was to have been an open one with addresses by Mayor McKissick and Mr. J. H. Hoyt. Owing, however, to various reasons, the public meeting was postponed until afternoon and the convention immediately went into executive session.

Among the rules adopted to govern the convention was one which provides that any delegate other than the secretary, upon being convicted of giving out information concerning the work of the convention to the newspapers, shall be liable to expulsion.

President Garland appointed committees on iron wage, steel wage, president and officers; constitution and general laws; auditing, ways and means and appropriations; good of order, grievances, claims and appeals; secret work and mileage.

When the convention took a recess at noon the delegates stated that the session had been devoted entirely to routine business. The open meeting was again postponed in the afternoon, and the convention again went into executive session. The entire afternoon session was devoted to hearing the annual report of President Garland.

The general sentiment which apparently prevails among the delegates is that this convention will be the most important in the history of the organization.

"The association," said Secretary Gilgalon, "was never in such a good position to hold a convention. While the convention will be numerically weak, the hard times preventing a full attendance, the strength of the amalgamation as represented was never so strong. Henceforth there have been dissensions among some classes of the trade not being adequately represented. This year the situation is entirely changed. The association has gained in strength, and has extended to every branch of iron and steel workers. What we will do I can not say nor predict. The revival of trade will have a tendency to make this convention the most important ever held, and the most successful."

The feeling that there will be some radical changes made in the wage scale appears to be apparent. The delegates are reticent and will not commit themselves in any manner.

President Garland was shown a dispatch from Pittsburg stating that a new organization was about to be formed in that city which would be independent of the Amalgamated association.

"I don't believe that there is anything in it," said he, "and if a union of any kind is contemplated in those mills I think it is merely a preliminary step to get a foothold in the Amalgamated association. If they do not join our organization we would not consider them antagonistic. If they feel that they must receive union wages, they recognize us as the leading spirit among iron and steel workers and consequently will naturally be glad to join us. We can't blame the men because they desire union wages. They are working on a scale which is considerably below the amalgamated scale, and there is a possibility of their evincing a disposition to form a union."

Mrs. Emma Lippincott Dead.

QUINCY, Ills., May 22.—Mrs. Emma Lippincott, matron of the Illinois soldiers' home, died yesterday. She was the widow of General Charles E. Lippincott, for eight years auditor of the soldiers' home at Oregon, mysteriously disappeared. Yesterday fishermen using a seine in the Missouri river near here brought up the body of Ada. The arms of the girl were pinioned behind her and her limbs were bound together with a strong cord. There was other evidence of foul play. The body apparently had been in the water three days or more.

Further dragging of the river failed to reveal the body of May, but the search will be continued. Complete mystery surrounds the case. It is supposed the girls were enticed away from home and murdered, after first being ravished. Great excitement prevails over the affair. The best detective that can be secured will immediately go to work on the case.

LA GASCONE AGAIN OVERDUE.

She Has on Board 95 Saloon and 400 Steerage Passengers.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The French line steamship La Gascogne, which left Havre for this port at noon May 11, and was due to arrive Sunday morning last, had not yet been sighted. It is now believed that something beyond wind and sea and fog has delayed the French line steamship.

But whatever causes have conspired to keep her at sea so long, no one yet feels fear for her. This is shown conclusively by the rate of insurance on hull and cargo, an index which marks invariably the rise in apprehension when a vessel fails to appear on schedule time.

At the agent's office here there are few inquiries. The general belief in New York is that La Gascogne's engines have played her false again, and that she is knocking about below the steamer line while her engineers tinker her up a bit.

None of the trans-Atlantic liners which came up yesterday saw anything of the La Gascogne, although the Scania and the Stuttgart from German ports, traveled in the course usually pursued by her. Under ordinary circumstances the French boat should have overtaken them. Captain Bandelon, who commanded La Gascogne last winter, is still aboard. The engineer is Debars, who was first assistant to Engineer Martin last winter. The cargo of the steamship is valued at about $450,000. There are 95 cabin and 400 steerage passengers aboard.

Over Five Hundred Passengers On Board.

PARIS, May 22.—Inquiries made here at the offices of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique show that La Gascogne, which sailed from Havre for New York on May 11, and which is now about three days late, has on board 95 saloon passengers and 400 passengers in the steerage. The officials of the French line are not in any way alarmed at the fact that La Gascogne has not arrived on time. In spite of this fact, friends and relatives of the passengers of La Gascogne after hearing that the steamship was late in arriving at New York began making inquiries at the offices of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique.

Probably Delayed by Ice.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 22.—Nothing has been heard of the La Gascogne. Mariners think possibly she is embayed in the ice and unable to work her way through, or may be struck a floating iceberg. There are great quantities of ice off the Newfoundland coast now. The steamer Ulunda, upon her arrival here, reported passing 60 large icebergs. The Alien liner Carthaginian also met a good deal of ice.

In Port in Distress.

QUEENSTOWN, May 22.—The German steamer Hispania, Captain Kuhn, from Hamburg, with 200 passengers aboard, has put into this port in distress, after encountering very heavy weather.

TWO GIRLS DISAPPEAR.

The Body of One of Them Fished Out of a River, Indicating Foul Play.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 22.—Several days ago Ada and May Wolfenberg, aged 16 and 10 years respectively, daughters of the proprietor of the Midway hotel at Oregon, mysteriously disappeared. Yesterday fishermen using a seine in the Missouri river near here brought up the body of Ada. The arms of the girl were pinioned behind her and her limbs were bound together with a strong cord.

There was other evidence of foul play. The body apparently had been in the water three days or more.

Further dragging of the river failed to reveal the body of May, but the search will be continued. Complete mystery surrounds the case. It is supposed the girls were enticed away from home and murdered, after first being ravished. Great excitement prevails over the affair. The best detective that can be secured will immediately go to work on the case.

MINERS MAKING A FIGHT.

Every Effort Being Made to Get Sixty-Nine Cents Per Ton.

PITTSBURG, May 22.—The miners of this district are making a desperate fight in the face of their defeat in their strike for 69 cents per ton. Yesterday the officials succeeded in calling out about 1,500 men on the Chartiers branch of the Pan Handle railroad, and all the mines of that section are closed.

The mines on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio road are running in full, however, and it is generally conceded that the strike is lost. But the officials of the United Mine Workers are trying to get the men out along the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio, and on Thursday they will attempt the greater feat of bringing out the miners of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, who are at work at 45 cents per ton under contract.

Unchanged at Pocahontas.

POCAHONTAS, May 22.—The conditions here are unchanged. The output was 85 cars. Private Fields, who was struck with a stone yesterday morning, is not badly hurt, and the negro who struck him has been arrested. All the white miners who were arrested have been released. The Richmond militia company will leave for home in the morning and will be supplanted by Portsmouth company. The council and board of trade have asked Governor O'Farrell to suspend picket guard on the 23d, as the town and county officials are elected on that day.

John McKinley Tried to Board a Moving Train And Loses a Leg And Arm.

John McKinley, aged twenty-seven, tried to board a moving train near the C. and O. depot yesterday afternoon but failed, and the next instant his right arm and leg were badly mangled by the wheels.

The train was No. 99, westbound Kanawha Dispatch, due at 1:30 p.m. It was side-tracking at the depot for the eastbound F. F. V. when the accident occurred.

The leg was crushed and mangled from the knee to ankle and the arm from the elbow to wrist. The accident occurred about one hundred yards west of the depot.

Dr. Owens, the company's surgeon, and Dr. Reed were summoned. The unfortunate man was removed to the Goddard House, and has been in such a critical condition ever since that the physicians have not attempted to amputate the injured leg and arm.

The Maysvilles Downed the Crack Y. M. C. A.'s in the First Game.

A Hot Fight and a Lively Finish Marked the Opening of the New Ball Park.

The Maysvilles celebrated the opening of their handsome new base ball park Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Y. M. C. A.'s of Cincinnati.

It was a pretty hard fall for the visitors and their star twirler, Ratterman.

The game was hotly contested from "eend to eend." Twice was the score tied, in the fourth and then again in the eighth, and it was not until the last inning that the locals were able to clinch what had looked a winning game from the start.

The sensational feature of the game was McGann's home run in the fourth. The first time the locals big Captain came to bat he was presented with a handsome bouquet. When it came his turn again he stepped up and landed squarely on a hot one from Ratterman, and the ball went sailing through the air towards the left field fence. McGann is a sprinter as well as a hitter and he was close to third when Schroll fielded the ball. McGann beat the ball to the plate by a good lead, amid the wild cheers of the crowd.

The locals put up a remarkably fine game of ball throughout, all things considered. It was their first game, and they have had but little practice. They got through with only five errors. Two of these were muffs of fly balls by Wadsworth in center, who had to chase through the mud to get to them, and then had hard work to do it. Sutherland played first very well, except in one instance when he muffed a thrown ball that would have retired the Y. M. C. A.'s had he held it. Captain McGann accepted every chance at second, and took in a number of flies. Hall at short, Curle at third, Reiman in right and Cox in left took care of their territory in nice style. Curle made one wild throw to first, but he had several nice pick-ups to his credit. Tenley caught a very good game.

Sam Lever was in the box for Maysville, and fully sustained the reputation he has won. He was a little slow in his delivery, but when he let 'em go they went over with cannon-ball speed, almost. Not until the fourth were the visitors able to get a hit off of him. And they got only eight in the game; while Ratterman the opposing pitcher was touched up by the locals for an even dozen hits. It was Lever's first game, and all things considered he did splendid work.

Ratterman has as much speed as Lever, and some very puzzling curves, and the fact that the locals got twelve hits off of him shows that they can handle the stick, and are right in it when it comes to batting. And it takes good batting to win.

All in all it was a very satisfactory and very auspicious opening for the home team. Owing to the uncertainty, until a late hour, as to the opening, and the cool weather, the attendance was not quite up to expectations. Mayor Cox was on hand and delivered a brief address, giving the team a nice little send-off.

Neither side scored in the first, but the locals commenced business in the second. Reiman opened with a single to right, and Sutherland advanced him with a single to left. Reiman started to third on a passed ball, and scored on a wild throw from catcher to third.

In third neither side scored. The locals went out in one-two-three order. For the Y. M. C. A.'s Higgins and Ratterman couldn't get their eye on Lever's hot ones and fanned out. Mathews, went out from short to first.

In fourth Hall went out from short to first. McGann followed and swatted the ball for a home run. Reiman out on a foul tip to catcher. Wadsworth singled safe, but Sutherland retired the side on a fly to center. The visitors got in two runs in their half, on singles by Hays Schroll, Curtis and Cornelius, and a passed ball.

In fifth the locals went out one, two, three. A base on balls, a single and a two-bagger, and a passed ball netted the visitors two more runs.

In sixth, Curle went to first on balls, stole second, went to third on a balk by Ratterman and was sent home by Reiman. With Hosea on third and only one out, the visitors were blanked. Hosea tried to score on Higgins' infield hit but was nailed at plate by a neat throw by Lever. Mathews ended it by striking out.

The seventh was a short one. Sutherland and Lever struck to second and failed to reach first, and Tenley failed to find the ball. Ratterman went out on fly to McGann, Hays on fly to Reiman and Schroll on fly to Sutherland.

The eighth was lively all through. Cox and Curle struck out and things looked blue for the locals. Hall started the fun with a single to center. Cox ran for Hall, and set the rooters to shouting by a daring steal to second. McGann followed with a two-bagger, scoring Cox. Reiman followed with another two-bagger, sending McGann home. Wadsworth singled to left, scoring Reiman. Wadsworth made a neat steal to second. Sutherland ended it by striking out. The visitors tied the score. Curtis opened with a two-bagger, went to third on passed ball, and reached home on Hosea's single to right. Hausman's single to right sent Hosea to third, and he scored on Sutherland's miff of a throw.

The locals clinched things in the ninth by some fine work. Lever got to first on an infield hit. Tenley bunted, sending Lever to second and beating it out. Lever started to third, but was caught between bases. They tried to run him down but he made it, the third baseman dropping the ball. Cox's hit to left scored Lever and Tenley. Curle sent Cox to third. Mathews allowed the ball to roll away from him, and Cox made a daring break for home, and got there by a close finish. Hall sacrificed, Curle trying to score, but just missed it. McGann advanced Hall and he scored on a passed ball. For the visitors, Ratterman went out on a foul, taken in by Tenley. Hays and Schroll struck out.

MAYOR COX'S ADDRESS.

In his address, Mayor Cox said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Athletic games have come down to us from every age and country. Base ball is now a fixture and a necessity in this country. It is not only recognized as the national game, but the greatest aid in developing our race. It has also been freely demonstrated that a man can be a ball player and gentleman, regardless of any opinion he may hold, politically, socially, religiously or otherwise. The old saw that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy is fully illustrated in this example, and is recognized by every parent in the land. We need muscle as well as brains in the management of a country like ours; and the more muscle we have the better fitted we are for the work.

It would be very difficult to distinguish at this time which is the most popular, base ball or free silver. We feel that base ball has the edge, but are still not unmindful of the fact that it takes money to make the mare go. The management, however, being bimetalists will refuse neither gold nor silver for admission.

A word for the management. Maysville never does things by halves. The management, all young business men, have at considerable expense beautified these grounds, and are determined to make this a successful season, being better equipped than ever before. While they feel encouraged by your presence to-day, I know you will see that each game will be well patronized, and thus help a good thing along. Thanking you for your kind attention we will declare the season of 1895 now open. It is a good thing, pass it along.

TO-DAY'S GAME.

The second game of the series will be played this afternoon. Emig will likely pitch for the visitors and Miller or Reiman for the locals. The fine game yesterday will no doubt insure a big attendance to-day.
